Medical seat for daughter: Man cheated of Rs 55 L

MUMBAI, OCT 10

A 48-year-old man lost Rs 55 lakh to four fraudsters who allegedly tricked him to pay by promising a medical seat to his daughter in a city college, the police said Tuesday.

According to complainant Dipak Birwatkar, four persons had befriended him and promised to help him secure admission for his daughter who failed to get a medical seat since 2015, an official said. They had taken the money from Birwatkar, a resident of Sewree in Central Mumbai, in the past. Birwatkar approached RA Kidwai Marg police station, after the four stopped answering his phone calls.

money to BJP MP

Habitually women take Rs 2-4 lakh, level allegations on men and then pick another man," the MP said criticising the movement where women have shed their apprehensions to speak about abuse and harassment that they have faced.

to take harass them. Not only men, several men have joined the movement by sharing their own stories of sexual abuse. With anger over the alleged perpetrators, several men have also facing allegations have been apologised for their behaviour.

Among those who backed the movement was Union Minister for Women and Child Development, Maneka Gandhi said that she was happy the movement had started in the country. However, she had also voiced caution over saying that she hopes that the campaign does not go 'out of control'.

"Me Too campaign has started and I'm very happy. I think women are responsible and anger at sexual molestation never goes away. But I hope it does not go out of control in a way that we target people who have offended us in some way but I think women are angry at sexual molestation," she had said.

BJP president Amit Shah Tuesday said "illegal infiltrators" took away jobs of youths in the country and alleged that Congress chief Rahul Gandhi and other opposition parties had opposed the NRC when 40 lakh such settlers were identified under the exercise. Addressing a convention of BJP workers at Polo Ground here, Shah said the BJP governments would "drive each and every infiltrator out of the country" after winning elections in 2018 and 2019.

Taking a dig at Gandhi, Shah said he should "stop day-dreaming" about the Congress coming to power after elections. Referring to the National Register of Citizens (NRC) for Assam, he said the BJP government would drive each of the 40 lakh "illegal infiltrators" out of the country as the party stands for national security and rights of Indians.

"When the NRC identified 40 lakh illegal migrants in Assam, Rahul baba and parties like the SP (Samajwadi Party), BSP (Bahujan Samaj Party) and Trinamool Congress (TMC) raised a hue and cry and opposed the exercise," Shah said. He said the youths of the country lost their jobs to the illegal immigrants. "These migrants took away the jobs of our youths. They (opposed) are the cause of the hunger of the people of this country. We will drive each infiltrator out after winning elections in 2018 and 2019," he said. Assembly elections are scheduled to be held in the next two months in Madhya Pradesh, Chhattisgarh, Rajasthan, Telangana and Mizoram. While first three of the above states are currently ruled by the BJP, the Congress is in power in the northeastern state. Telangana was ruled by the Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) before chief minister K Chandrababbar Naidu dissolved the assembly. Lok Sabha elections are slated to be held next year. "Rahul Baba should stop daydreaming. The Congress' condition is that it will (soon) be difficult to find them even with the help of binoculars," Shah said. He said the Congress lacked any issues with which it could go to the people seeking votes in the Madhya Pradesh polls. "How can the Congress succeed in winning polls in Madhya Pradesh? Will you seek votes from people with the help of a 'raja' (former chief minister Digvijaya Singh who is an erstwhile royal), a 'maharaja' (former Union minister Jyotiraditya Scindia who is a royal descendant) and an industrialist (state Congress chief Kamal Nath) who have never seen poverty?" he questioned.
